Competitive Admission Majors

 - ACC 300: if you are reapplying to ACC, and would like ACC 300 grade considered, write a personal statement
- Supply Chain Management
 - Competitive based on Cumulative and Major Precore GPAs

Personal Statement

- The personal statement of extenuating circumstance is an opportunity for a student to share a circumstance beyond his/her control which impacted academic performance. Official supportive documentation of the extenuating circumstance must accompany the personal statement.
- Examples of reasons to write a personal statement:
 - Medical illness
 - Family emergency
 - ACC 300/301 grade consideration for application to ACC
- The desire to pursue a particular major with no other extenuating factors is not a reason for a personal statement; this is assumed based on the act of applying.

Transfer Credit

- Declare current dual enrollment in the application system
 - Institution name, course code, number of credits, end of semester date
 - ONLY COURSES YOU ARE TAKING IN SPRING 2020
- Credit from prior semester courses must be reflected on your academic record as “accepted credit” by May 5. Unofficial documentation cannot be accepted.
- Repeating MSU courses (0.0-1.5) through transfer credit
 - Once transcript is applied to your academic record, the original course grade will be removed from your GPA (and precore GPA, if it is a precore course)
 - Grade from the other institution is not used in GPA calculations

Transfer Credit

- Documentation of course completion with a transferrable grade must be submitted to the Admission Coordinator (admissions@broad.msu.edu) by 8:00pm, May 6.
 - Acceptable: Screenshot of final semester grade (like STUINFO) or electronic unofficial transcript
 - Unacceptable: letters from instructors/school officials, semester progress grades, D2L-style gradebook screenshots
- Course that end and/or grades that are not made available until after the May 6 deadline will not be considered in the decision for Spring 2020. Students who choose to complete courses that do not meet this deadline must apply in the next available application period.
- Official transcripts (showing final grades) must be sent to the Office of Admissions (NOT the Broad College).
